

DAY-14, DAILY REPORT, 25-11 -2021 (THURSDAY)

Today I had an experience. When I woke up in the morning, it gave me a good positive vibes and then I prayed to god. And I prepared for the office or company. The first session was to create a html page and css. I have learned how to create a square box, the coding is `` and then in css, we want to type the code as `.square{ height, width, border-radius, and }`. And for creating the code in a circle has `` and for css code is `.dot{ height, width, and border-radius, }`. And it has the problem solving questions given by management in the algorithms etc. and third one is the i have gone through the extreme ownership is the u.s navy seal officers who led the most highly decorated special operations unit of the iraq war demonstrate how to apply powerful leadership principles from the battlefield to business and life. The combat, the most intense environment imaginable, teaches the toughest leadership lessons with absolutely everything at stake. Jocko willink and leif babin learned this reality firsthand from the most violent and dangerous battlefield in iraq. As leaders of seal team three task unit bruiser, their mission was one many thought impossible; they can help the u.s forces as secure and violent, insurgent, and hold the city deemed “all but lost”. In gripping, firsthand, and accounts of heroism, and the most important factor in whether a team succeeds in life. William and Babin returned home from deployment and instituted seal leadership training to pass on the humbling lessons they learned in combat from the leading generation from sail teams. Since then, they have trained from the leaders and they launched from the company. They have trained the pass and help the forge leaders to develop the high performance since its release in october 2015, extreme ownership has revolutionized leadership development and set of new standards for literature and many of the most successful organizations. The forewords of the many exceptional leaders we served throughout the military careers, the consistent attribute that made them great was they took absolute ownership. And extreme ownership not just of those things for which they were responsible. They have no excuses. And they developed solutions and solved problems. Their own egos took a back seat to the mission and their troops. And their leaders truly led. And has multitudes of business professionals. And from senior executives to frontline managers. Extreme ownership was written by JOCKO WILLINK AND LEIF BABIN. And across a vast range of industries, including finance, construction, manufacturing, technology, energy, retail, pharmaceutical, health care, and also, military, police, fire departments, and emergency first responders. The most successful men and women we've seen in the civilian world practice this same breed of extreme ownership. Likewise the most high performance teams, we've worked with demonstrate this mind set throughout their organizations. Since the publication of extreme ownership readers across the United States and around the world have been strongly impacted for good. They have told us how to implement its principles. That's all about today. Thank you.
